POV

VVS

Air pollution crisis

Air pollution has emerged as one of the most significant health hazards facing India today. With its detrimental effects reaching every corner of the country, it is not just the smog that stifles the air, but the dangerous toxins that are silently poisoning our population. In 2021, air pollution was responsible for over 8.1 million deaths globally, with India bearing a large portion of that burden. It has now become the second leading risk factor for premature death worldwide, killing more people than any infectious disease. What is even more alarming is the rise in cases of chronic respiratory and cardiovascular diseases, neurological disorders, and even cancer, directly linked to the toxins we breathe.

The silent killer

Air pollution in India is a lethal cocktail of both human-made and natural pollutants. On one hand, we have industrial emissions, vehicle exhaust, and the burning of fossil fuels for power generation, particularly from coal-fired power plants. On the other, natural sources like wildfires—frequently caused by human negligence—volcanic eruptions, and decomposing organic matter which release harmful gases like methane into the atmosphere.

While pollutants in the air have long been recognized as a primary contributor to a host of diseases, recent studies have underscored an undeniable connection between air pollution and a sharp rise in health issues. According to Maria Belen Romanello, Executive Director of Lancet Countdown on Health and Climate Change, air pollution is more than just an environmental problem—it is a public health crisis! Romanello's recent comments at the World Health Organization (WHO) conference in Colombia highlighted the direct correlation between increased pollution levels and a surge in acute respiratory diseases in India.

In fact, India's struggle with air pollution has reached such alarming proportions that it is now one of the leading contributors to increased hospitalizations for respiratory diseases, particularly during peak pollution months.

Despite mounting scientific evidence, India's government has been slow to acknowledge the gravity of the air pollution problem. In a recent statement by Anupiya Patel, India's Minister of State for Health, the government maintained that there is no conclusive data to link air pollution directly to deaths or diseases, sparking controversy among health professionals.

In an address to the Rajya Sabha, Patel argued that various factors—including diet, socio-economic status, and genetic predisposition—contribute to respiratory ailments. While these factors are indeed relevant, they do little to address the undeniable fact that air pollution remains a significant and preventable cause of health deterioration.

Romanello, however, insists that there is "no safe level of air pollution." Whether in rural or urban India, the science is clear: any exposure to polluted air—regardless of its concentration—causes harm to our lungs, cardiovascular system, and internal organs. And yet, despite WHO's clear recommendations on safe pollution thresholds, many of India's cities exceed these levels by a staggering margin.

Economic and social toll

The health consequences of air pollution go beyond hospital bills and premature deaths—they have a devastating impact on India's economy. According to Romanello, the damage to productivity is severe, with millions of people missing work due to illness, and productivity dropping in sectors reliant on physical labor. The cost of treating pollution-related diseases, both in terms of healthcare and lost productivity, places a huge strain on the Indian economy.

The government has launched initiatives like the Pradhan Mantri Ujjwala Yojana (PMUY) to promote clean cooking technologies, and the hope is that cleaner fuels will reduce indoor air pollution, particularly for women and children. However, according to a report published by a think tank in 2024, around 41 percent of India's population still relies on wood, cow dung, and other forms of biomass for cooking! These practices emit an estimated 340 million tonnes of carbon dioxide annually, contributing 13 percent of the country's greenhouse gas emissions. If these issues are not addressed, India will continue to bear heavy health and environmental costs of these outdated practices.

Globally, air pollution is now recognized as a public health emergency. Over 47 million health workers, advocates, and patients have signed petitions urging governments to take urgent action to tackle this crisis. At the WHO's second conference on air pollution and health, held in Cartagena at the end of March 2025, over 50 countries and organizations made new pledges to address the deadly effects of pollution. Their collective aim is to halve the number of deaths related to air pollution by 2040. According to WHO Director Dr. Maria Neira, air pollution is a leading cause of death worldwide, and it disproportionately harms low- and middle-income countries, where nearly 90 percent of the deaths from pollution occur.

WHO's recent reports make it clear that air pollution affects every part of the body from the brain to the lungs, heart, kidneys, and even the skin. The long-term health risks are staggering, and time for action is now. Governments must step up, enact stricter policies, and invest in cleaner, greener technologies.

Political toxicity

It is just not the physical pollution alone that is taking a toll on the common man's health. The rising tide of political toxicity in India is another silent stressor affecting millions. As citizens try to navigate the storm of contradictory political messages, divisive rhetoric, and constant noise from public forums, the mental toll is immense. Anxiety, confusion, and stress are now epidemic, as people try to make sense of the chaos surrounding them. This "political pollution" may not show up on any air quality index, but it is a burden on the mind, health, and spirit of the people.

As air pollution continues to ravage India's health and economy, the need for urgent action has never been clearer. The government must take heed of the scientific evidence, acknowledging the undeniable link between air pollution and its devastating health impacts. Every day that passes without substantial change is another day the health of millions of Indians is compromised. It is time to clear the air—for the sake of the population, the economy, and future generations.

The message is simple but critical: clean air is not a luxury, it is our basic right.

Highlights from Lex Fridman Podcast - Part 4 Himalayan journey and Modi's quest for purpose

Lex Fridman is an American computer scientist and podcaster. Since 2018, he has hosted the Lex Fridman Podcast, where he interviews notable figures from various fields such as science, technology, sports, and politics. This is a transcript of Lex Fridman Podcast with Narendra Modi. Followings is the conversation during an interview with Indian prime minister Narendra Modi and following is the fourth part of that interview's transcript.

Lex Fridman: At 17, you left home and spent two years roaming in the Himalayas, searching for purpose, for deeper truth, for God. You lived a nomadic, minimalist existence, very much like a yogi, often sleeping without a roof over your head. What are some memorable spiritual moments, rituals, experiences from that time?

Prime Minister Narendra Modi: Look, I don't usually talk much about this, but I can share a few external aspects. I grew up in a small town, surrounded by community. I found inspiration in books, particularly those about Swami Vivekananda and Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, and I experimented with my own limits.

From a young age, I tested my physical endurance. I'd sleep outside in the cold to see how my body reacted. Reading Vivekananda deepened my spiritual inclination. I recall his encounter with Sri Ramakrishna Paramahansa, where he couldn't bring himself to ask for material needs before Goddess Kali. This ignited a spirit of giving within him, a realisation of the unity between Shiva and all living beings.

An incident with a meditating saint during Navratri also left an impression. I chose to serve him instead of attending a family wedding, drawn to his spiritual practices. The desire to do something meaningful was always within me.

During my mission, I met remarkable saints, including Swami Atmasthanandji, who lived a life of wisdom and service. He emphasized serving society, not personal well-being. His words, though initially disheartening, guided me.

I then wandered, spending time in the Himalayas, embracing solitude and meeting ascetics. The mountains, ice, and towering peaks shaped me, strengthening my inner power. I practiced meditation, woke in pre-dawn hours, bathed in the cold, and served elderly saints. I devoted myself to helping villagers during a natural calamity. I moved constantly, living a nomadic life, seeking to understand life's meaning. These experiences profoundly influenced my journey.

"My nomadic search for life's meaning profoundly shaped me. Whether as a child caring for others, a wanderer in the Himalayas, or now in this role, it's all driven by the same inner purpose: selfless service. To me, there's no difference between a saint and a leader."

My special thanks to him for this gesture. This Prologue is done to showcase who Sardar is going to fight against. SJ. Suryah is hoping that you all will like this film, even before the completion of narration. He has delivered a commendable performance. Sardar 2 will be liked by all. Thank You."

Producer Lakshman Kumar said, "Sardar became Karthi's biggest blockbuster hit in his career, and his hard work was so huge. This left me no option, but to instantly give a nod to get it materialized. The process of makeover itself was complex for Karthi, and he has exerted more efforts for Sardar 2. Mithran has created this movie with more grandeur. We are extremely happy to present you the First Look Prologue. We are hoping that you all will like this film."

Actor SJ Suryah said, "Sardar 2 is a re-statement movie and I got excited when P.S. Mithran started narrating the story as my character was totally unique and different. He has created this film, but with the nativity element Sardar 2 will be a special film to all of us in the team. Thank You."

Music Director Sam C.S. said, "Prince Pictures is more like a family to me, for I have worked in different genres with them. I am glad to be working with them again."

Don Bosco Agri College students demonstrate modern farming techniques to farmers

Chennai, Apr 7:

Final-year students of Don Bosco Agricultural College conducted a special technical demonstration for farmers in Nenuli village as part of their rural agricultural outreach program.

The aim of the event was to introduce farmers to modern agricultural practices and demonstrate how irrigation technologies can be used to enhance crop yield.

During the event, the students explained various techniques including:

Leaf Colour Chart (LCC) - A tool that helps assess the nitrogen requirement of crops based on the color of their leaves, enabling accurate fertilizer application.

Mulching - A key farming method that helps retain soil moisture, control weed growth, and protect groundwater resources.

Drone Technology - Used for spraying fertilizers and pesticides, assessing land conditions, and monitoring crop growth.

A highlight of the event was the direct interaction between the students and farmers, during which each technique was demonstrated practically and explained in detail.

The participating farmers expressed that learning about such modern techniques was highly beneficial to them. They also requested that similar training programs be conducted regularly in the future.

The Company intends to raise an amount aggregating to Rs. 62,35,02,694/- (Rupees Sixty-Two Crores Thirty-Five Lakhs Two Thousand Six Hundred and Ninety-Four only) by way of Equity Shares on preferential basis.

(vi) Relevant Date with reference to which the price has been arrived at

In terms of the provisions of Chapter V of SEBI ICDR Regulations, relevant date for determining the floor price for the Preferential Issue of the Equity Shares is March 28, 2025, which is the preceding working day to the date 30 days prior to the date of this Meeting (“Relevant Date”).

(vii) Basis on which the price has been arrived at and justification for the price along with the report of the Registered Valuer

The Equity Shares of the Company are listed on BSE Limited (“BSE”) (referred to as the “Stock Exchange”). The Equity Shares are frequently traded in terms of the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

In accordance with regulation 166A(1) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the Company is not required to obtain a valuation report from an independent registered valuer since the proposed Preferential Issue is not expected to result in a change in control or allotment of more than 5% (five per cent) of the post issue fully diluted share capital of the Company. Additionally, the Company being a listed company is also exempted by rule 13(1) of the Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 from undertaking valuation of its shares. However, the Company has appointed Mr. Subbarao Kesavarapu, Independent Registered Valuer having IBBI Registration No. IBBI/RV/02/2019/12292 for determining the floor price.

In terms of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the floor price determined by the valuer, at which the Equity Shares can be issued is Rs. 201.92 (Rupees Two Hundred and One and Paise Ninety-Two only) per Equity Share, as per the pricing formula prescribed under the SEBI ICDR Regulations for the Preferential Issue and is the highest of the following:

- (a) 90 (ninety) trading days volume weighted average price (VWAP) of the Equity Shares of the Company preceding the Relevant Date: i.e., Rs. 189.64/- (Rupees One Hundred and Eighty-Nine and Paise Sixty-Four only) per Equity share;
- (b) 10 (ten) trading days volume weighted average price (VWAP) of the Equity Shares of the Company preceding the Relevant Date: i.e., Rs. 201.92/- (Rupees Two Hundred and One and Paise Ninety-Two only) per Equity share;
- (c) Floor price determined in accordance with the provisions of the Articles of Association of the Company. However, the Articles of Association of the Company does not provide for any method of determination for valuation of shares which results in floor price higher than determined price pursuant to SEBI ICDR Regulations.

Further, given that the Equity Shares of the Company have been listed for a period of more than 90 (ninety) trading days prior to the relevant date, the Company is not required to re-compute the issue price as per Regulation 164(3) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations, and therefore, the Company is not required to submit the undertakings specified under Regulations 163(1)(g) and 163(1)(h) of the SEBI ICDR Regulations.

If the Company is required to re-compute the price then it shall undertake such re-computation and if the amount payable on account of the re-computation of price is not paid by the Proposed Allottees within the time stipulated in the SEBI ICDR Regulations, the Equity Shares proposed to be issued pursuant to this resolution would be continued to be locked in till the time such amount would have paid by the Proposed Allottees.

The price determined by the Registered Valuer is Rs. 201.92/- (Rupees Two Hundred and One and Paise Ninety-Two only) per Equity Share. The valuation report is available at the website of the Company at <https://poel.in/pdf/investors-desk/Valuation-Report.pdf>.

The price of the Equity Shares to be allotted on preferential basis has been approved by the Board of Directors as Rs. 202/- per Equity Share, which is not lower than the floor price determined in the manner set out above.

India to launch 150 satellites to boost coastal surveillance: ISRO chairman

Unveils O-ARM surgical system for advanced brain, spine surgery

Chennai, Apr 24: India would add another 100-150 satellites to cover the entire country over the next three years as part of enhancing border security and coastal surveillance, Iro Chairman V Narayanan said in Chennai on Wednesday.

Dr. Narayanan V, Chairman of ISRO, inaugurated Chennai's first O-ARM with Navigation system for advanced brain, spine and orthopedic surgeries at Kauvery Hospital, Alwarpet.

Currently, India operates about 55 satellites and for a country which has a vast border and 7,500 km of shoreline, that is not sufficient, he said.

Narayanan, also the Secretary, Department of Space, said it was for these reasons that Prime Minister Narendra Modi introduced reforms in the space sector, which allows participation of private players in building rockets and satellites.

O-Arm system
The O-ARM system, powered by AI-driven 2D and 3D imaging, is designed to assist surgeons in performing highly complex brain, spine, and orthopedic procedures with greater precision and safety. It provides real-time imaging during surgery, allowing for better orientation, precise decision-making, and the ability to verify implant placement and spinal alignment instantly. The state-of-the-art mobile imaging platform provides 360-degree, CT-like images during surgery. It gives surgeons a comprehensive view of the operative site, enhancing their ability to make informed decisions in real time. The system integrates seamlessly with the StealthStation Navigation, a GPS-like tool for the body, ensuring optimal placement of screws and implants, particularly in delicate spine surgeries.

Speaking about the O-ARM, Dr. Ranganathan Jothi, Chief - Brain & Spine Surgeon and Director of Neurosciences, Kauvery Hospital Chennai says, "The O-ARM allows us to see the anatomy in exquisite detail while we are operating, and this makes a significant difference in the outcome. It's like performing surgery with a 3D map in hand."

Dr. Anvithan Seshvaraj, Co-founder and Executive Director, Kauvery Group of Hospitals, Dr. Kishu Siddhar, Group Mentor Neurosciences and Director, Kauvery Institute of Brain & Spine, Kauvery Hospital Radial Road, S. Shyam Sundhar, Senior Consultant Neurosurgery, Kauvery Hospital Alwarpet, Dr. Balram, Head of Spine Surgery, Kauvery Hospital Alwarpet were present at the event.

The capital infusion will be directly channeled towards pivotal projects and initiatives that are critical to realizing our long-term growth objectives.

2.Acquisition: The Company, in the month of June 2025, had approved a strategic investment in M/s. PlanetFirst Green Private Limited ("PlanetFirst"), a private limited company which is engaged in the business of lead recycling, and has a smelting capacity of 21,000 MT p.a., and refining capacity of 21,000 MT p.a., This strategic investment encompassed the acquisition of a 40% equity stake, in addition to purchase of the preference shares.

3. Diversification Plan - The company is actively exploring expansion opportunities, into the recycling sector to expand its horizons. 4. Lead Refining & Smelting Capacity Expansion at Unit 4 – Maraimalai Nagar

With the existing Lead Refining & Smelting unit running at full capacity, the company undertook the development of a new facility last year with a Refining & Smelting capacity of 11,000 MTPA & 11,000 MTPA respectively. The CAPEX was initiated in February 2024, and all construction work was successfully completed. 5.Reduced Carbon Footprints

In line with our commitment to environmental sustainability, we have transitioned to LPG fuel as a replacement for furnace oil and light diesel oil at both our Pondicherry facilities. This initiative has significantly reduced our carbon footprint and has also yielded cost savings, which is also reflected in our financial results for the quarter ended June 30, 2025. We are actively exploring the implementation of this transition at our other facilities located at Tamil Nadu.

6.Innovating for a Greener Tomorrow: In line with the National Green Tribunal's directive to phase out the use of lead-based stabilizers in PVC pipes and fittings, the Company has proactively established a Lead-Free PVC Stabilizers division at its existing Puducherry facility. In the initial phase, the division has been set up with a production capacity of 2,400 MTPA to cater to anticipated market demand. The initial R&D phase was successfully completed, and a wide range of products has already received customer approval.
